UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT

DISTRICT OF CONNECTICUT TRUSTEES OF THE CONNECTICUT PIPE TRADES LOCAL 777 HEALTH FUND et al. Plaintiff, v. PLUMBING CREATIONS, LLC Defendants.

No. 3:15-cv-00822 (MPS)

RULING ON MOTION FOR CONTEMPT I. Introduction comply with a post-judgment subpoena. (ECF No. 50.) Plaintiffs, the United Association of Plumbers and Pipefitters Local 777 and seven union employee benefit fund obtained a default judgment against Defendant, totaling $74,958.40. (ECF No. 44.) Plaintiffs were unable to collect $22,601.99 of the judgment amount. As a result, they filed a motion for a Judgment Debtor Exam, seeking to require the Defendant to appear for questioning and produce certain documents relating to its assets and ability to pay. (ECF No. 49.) I granted the motion (ECF No. 50), but Defendant failed to produce documents required by Plaintiff. (ECF No. 53 at ¶ 8.) Plaintiffs have now filed a motion for contempt, asking the Court to impose a monetary fine for each day Defendant fails to comply with the subpoena. (ECF No. 53.) For the reasons set forth below, the motion is GRANTED.

II. Background

Plaintiffs are a union, the United Association of Plumbers and Pipefitters Local 777, and seven union employee benefit funds. (ECF No. 1 at ¶ 1.) Defendant, Plumbing Creations, LLC, is a limited liability company based in Hartford, Connecticut. (Id. at ¶ 3.) Plaintiffs brought this action on May 29, 2015. (Id.) They alleged that Defendant had violated a collective bargaining agreement requiring it to make certain contributions to employee benefit funds on behalf of its employees. (ECF No. 1 at ¶¶ 6, 8.) Defendant failed to answer the complaint or otherwise defend, and Plaintiffs moved for default entry. (ECF No. 11.) The motion was granted on July 30, 2015. (ECF No. 12.) Plaintiffs then moved for default judgment. (ECF No. 13.) After supplemental briefing related to damages, the Court entered a default judgment against Defendant in the amount of $74,958.40. (ECF No. 44.)

After the Court entered default judgment, the Plaintiffs applied for, and received, a writ of execution to enforce the judgment (ECF Nos. 45, 48.) Plaintiffs collected a portion of the judgment but assert that they were unable to collect the remaining balance of $22,601.99. (ECF No. 53 ¶ 3.) Defendant did not respond to post-judgment interrogatories and, as such, Plaintiffs moved to conduct a Judgment

Debtor Exam to investigate any property or assets the Defendant may possess. (ECF No. 49.) for the exam under Conn. Gen. Stat. § 52-397 the Judgment Debtor Exam for May 30, 2018. Plaintiffs served Defendant with my ruling on the motion, notice of the exam, and a subpoena duces tecum requiring it to produce several documents related to its accounts and assets. (ECF Nos. 53-2, 53-3, 53-4.) Defendant failed to appear for the Exam. (ECF No. 53 at ¶ 6.) rescheduled the Exam for June 12, 2018 and again served Defendant with notice copies of all requested (ECF No. 53-3, 53-6.) Defendant appeared for the Exam on June 12, 2018 but did not provide any of the required documents; to date Defendant has still not supplied the documents. (ECF No. 53 at ¶ 8.)

On January 8, 2019, Plaintiffs filed a motion asking that the Court hold Defendant in contempt for failing to comply with the subpoena and provide the documents. (ECF No. 53.) On January 31, 2019, I ordered Defendant to show cause within 14 days why the Court should not hold it in contempt and impose the sanctions that Plaintiffs sought. (ECF No. 54.) Plaintiffs served Defendant with a copy of the order on February 7, 2019, but Defendant has not responded. (ECF No. 55-3.)

III. Legal Standard

Under Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 69(a)(1) a court may issue a writ of execution to enforce a money judgment. and in proceedings supplementary to and in aid of judgment or execution must accord with the procedure of the state where the court Fed R. clear and unambiguous, (2) the proof of noncompliance is clear and convincing, and (3) the party has not diligently attempted to comply in a reasonable manner. Paramedics Electromedicina, 369 F.3d at 655.

IV. Discussion

A. Defendant Failed to Comply with a Clear and Unambiguous Subpoena Here, the subpoena was clear and unambiguous. [A party] may only be held in contempt if it violated a clear and unambiguous order that left no doubt in the minds of those to whom it was addressed. Drywall Tapers & Pointers v. Local 530, 889 F.2d 389, 395 (2d Cir. 1989). A clear and unambiguous order is one that is specific and definite enough to apprise those within its scope of the conduct that is being proscribed. N.Y. State NOW v. Terry, 886 F.2d 1339, 1352 (2d Cir. 1989). I explicitly permitted provide for the service of a subpoena or subpoena duces tecum on the judgment debtor for appearance at such time and place as the Plaintiffs/Judgment Creditors or their attorney decides. (ECF No. 50 at 3.) I also warned that, if Defendant failed to comply with the subpoena, [Conn. Gen. Stat. §] 52-143, concerning fine, damages Id.) Plaintiffs served Defendant with a copy of my order and a subpoena to appear for a Judgment Debtor Exam on May 30, 2018. (ECF No. 53-4.) The subpoena required Defendant to produce several documents. (See ECF No. 53-3 at 2 (requiring Defendant to produce [c]opies of . . . checking and savings bank account statements . . . tax returns . . . assets and liabilities . . . unpaid accounts receivables. . . outstanding retention owed to Plumbing Creations . . . Documentation of any real property owned . . . all equipment and vehicles ow[n]ed by Plumbing Creations . . . intangible assets . . . any other tangible assets not mentioned in the above-referenced requests) The language of the subpoena was plain and direct. (ECF No. 53- your representatives, must also bring with you to the deposition the following documents, electronically stored information, or objects, and must permit inspection, copying, testing, or Defendant did not appear and did not provide the documents. Plaintiffs rescheduled the exam, served Defendant with notice of the new date and time, and . (ECF No. 53-5, 53-6.) Defendant attended the rescheduled examination, demonstrating that it had actual notice of the subpoena, but still did not produce the requested documents. Even after I issued an order to show cause, which made clear that the D contempt for failure to prod the Defendant to respond would result in a contempt order (ECF No. 54), Defendant still did not respond.

Next, proof of d at the rescheduled Exam in response to the subpoena but failed to produce the required documents. (ECF No. 53 at ¶ 8.) The Exam took place on June 12, 2018 and to date the Defendant has not produced any of the required documents, objected to the request for documents, or offered any explanation for the failure to comply. (Id. at ¶ 9.) Additionally, Defendant has not complied with my order to show cause. (ECF No. 54.) The order was served on the Defendant on February 7, 2019 and to date Defendant has not filed a response or offered any explanation for why the court -3.)

Finally, Defendant has not diligently attempted to comply with the subpoena. While Defendant did appear at the rescheduled Exam, it failed to provide the documents required. (Id.) produce document respond to the C , demonstrates that the Defendant has no attempt to comply with the court orders.

B. In light of comply with court orders, the imposition of a civil sanction is appropriate and in the interest of justice. Defendant has shown that it is unwilling to comply with court orders and the coercive power of a contempt is the only manner in which the C See New York State NOW v. Terry, 159 F.3d 86, 93 (2d Cir. 1998) (explaining that In determining an appropriate sanction, the court must ensure that the civil con Gucci Am. v. Bank of China, 768 F.3d 122, 144 to compensate the plaintiff for injury caused by past noncompliance or to prevent continued disobedience is not always dependent on a demonstration of actual pecuniary loss Manhattan Industries v. Sweater Bee by Banff, Ltd., 885 F.2d 1, 5 (2d. Cir. 1989) (internal quotation marks omitted). When imposing coercive fines for civil contempt, courts consider the character and magnitude of the harm threatened by continued contumacy, . . . the probable effectiveness of any suggested sanction in bringing about (compliance), and the amount of (the contemnor's) financial resources and the consequent seriousness of the burden to (him). Perfect Fit Industries, Inc. v. Acme Quilting Co., 673 F.2d 53, 57 (2d Cir. 1982) (quoting United States v. United Mine Workers, 330 U.S. 258, 303-04 (1947)). Plaintiffs ask that I upon Defendant for each day that it fails to comply with the Subpoena to Produce Documents (ECF No. 53 at 3.) I find that is reasonably aimed at compelling the Defendant to act. Defendant has refused to comply with the subpoena for more than a year and has denied Plaintiffs the opportunity to recover the damages awarded by the court. A daily fine will continue to accumulate only until Defendant provides the documents required under the subpoena, and the fine amount will therefore be determined by the . I cannot assess the burden a fine would impose upon the Defendant because the Defendant has not provided the court with any information regarding its assets. However, I find that $200 a day is reasonable, particularly given that Defendant can avoid incurring additional costs at any time by providing the requisite documents. The fine of $200 per day will begin accruing one day after service of this ruling is made upon the defendant. Proof of such service shall be filed on the docket within 14 days of this ruling.

I incurred in preparing the motion for contempt are appropriate compensation failure to comply with the subpoena. willful. Manhattan Industries, 885 F.2d at 8. Here, Defendant had notice of the requirement that it turn over documents but has failed to do so. I directed Plaintiffs to serve Defendant with documents demonstrating their expenses incurred in filing the motion for contempt and ordered Defendant to show cause why it should not be required to pay those expenses. Defendant did not respond to the order or provide the documents. This evidence is adequate to demonstrate that the Plaintiffs have provided documentation showing that counsel spent 2.50 hours preparing the motion for contempt at a rate of $250 per hour. I find that Kennedy v. Supreme Forest Prod., Inc., 295 F. Supp. 3d 113, 124 25 (D. Conn. 2017). It was also end 2.50 hours preparing this motion and to spend $60.20 to serve the motion and order to show cause. Thus, the Defendant will be ordered to pay $625.00 in attorney s fees and $60.20 in costs incurred in connection with preparing and serving the motion for contempt.

V. Conclusion

For the foregoing reasons, with the subpoena and the C described in Schedule A. The Court enters the following ORDERS:

1. Defendant, Plumbing Creations, LLC, is hereby HELD IN CONTEMPT for its failure to comply fully with the subpoena served upon it on April 30, 2018. (ECF No. 53-3.) 2. Defendant is ORDERED TO PAY a fine in the amount of $200 (two hundred dollars)

PER DAY, beginning on the day following the day this ruling is served on the Defendant. To prevent this fine or end its assessment, Defendant must purge its contempt by producing the documents listed in Schedule A . (ECF No. 53-3.) Unless or until Defendant produces said documents, the foregoing fine will accrue each day, subject to further Order of the Court. 3. Defendant, Plumbing Creations, LLC, is hereby ORDERED TO PAY reasonable -hundred eighty-five dollars and twenty cents). (See ECF No. 55 at ¶¶ 3 4.) 4. Plaintiffs are hereby ORDERED TO SERVE this ruling and Schedule A of the Plaintiffs subpoena upon the Defendant. Proof of such service shall be filed on the docket within 14 days of this ruling.

IT IS SO ORDERED. /s/ Michael P. Shea, U.S.D.J. Dated: Hartford, Connecticut
